BRITAIN MAY BREAK WITH SOVIET RUSSIA

LABOR PARTY OPPOSES MOVE OF GOVERNMENT

DEBATE ON THE SUBJECT MUST END AT 11
P. M.

RUSSIANS CHARGE ENGLAND WITH PUSHING TOWARD WAR

By CLIFFORD L. DAY
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
London, May 26.—Foreign Secretary Sir Austen Chamberlain in the House of Commons today met the move of labor party leaders opposed to breaking off Russian relations with a refusal.

Sir Austen said the recent demonstration in front of the British embassy in Washington was insignificant "but might not be disconnected with the message from the commissar of foreign affairs in Moscow sent all his agents abroad on April 9."

In that message, Sir Austen said, the commissar argued that it was absolutely imperative to organize in the shortest space of time meetings and demonstrations against England, where possible in front of their embassies and legations.

Replying to the motion of J. R. Clynes, laborite and former cabinet member, Chamberlain said the government was not prepared to accept a committee investigation of the threatened rupture, as proposed by Clynes.

"The government asks the House of Commons for a clear expression of confidence and approval," Chamberlain said.

Solidified by Chamberlain's appeal, it was inconceivable that the tremendous conservative majority on Commons would fail to vote to sever relations. The debate must end at 11 P. M.

The attitude of the United States government toward Russia was brought into the debate by Clynes in his rebuttal.

"America," he said, "although she has not officially recognized Russia, has helped to feed her instead of slighting her. Immense sums of money have been conveyed from America to Russia."

"And some from England," interjected Lady Astor, interrupting him.

"By this exchange of friendliness and by this exercise of greater common sense," Clynes continued, ignoring her ladyship, "America stands very much higher in the regards of the Russian people than does England. Russian agents have had far freer access to America for business purposes than they have had here."

"The United States has had about as much trade with Soviet Russia as we have had," said Sir Austen.

"Never, from the first to the last has the United States been willing to afford diplomatic recognition to the Soviet government. Never, from the first to the last, has the United States admitted a trade delegation of the kind we have had here. Yet, Clynes states that America stands higher in the Russian estimation than Britain."

Sir Austen passingly referred to Canada's termination of her Soviet trade agreement.

"The government," he said, "regards this motion for an investigation as a proposed vote of censure."

"If an expression of confidence and approval is not obtained, we shall know what steps it is our duty to take."

"The foreign trade of Russia is not dependent upon trade agreements, neither is it dependent upon diplomatic representation. It is a result of necessity."

Moscow, May 26.—England is pushing toward war by breaking off diplomatic relations with Russia, M. M. Litvinoff, assistant commissar for foreign affairs, charged in a statement.

"The break in Anglo-Soviet relations is not the result of the Arcos raid," Litvinoff said. "The raid was the result of the intention to break off relations."

1 KILLED, 12 HURT
AT GAS WELL BLAST

Borger, Texas, May 26.—(UP)—One man was reported killed and 12 others injured in an explosion today at the McMillan Oil Co. gas wells at Stanford, 15 miles west of here.

Two of the injured are reported to be in such serious condition that physicians believed they would die.

The victims are being brought here.

TYPHOON RAGES IN CENTRAL LUZON, P. I.

Manila, P. I., May 26.—(UP)—A typhoon wrought destruction in several provinces of central Luzon today.

Extensive property damage, especially to sugar cane, was reported.

Manila was virtually isolated, and communication with 13 provinces had been cut off.

Ships congested the harbor, fearing to put to sea. The President Madison maneuvered the entire day toward the pier. An Australian line tanker was swept from its moorings by a terrific wind during a deluge of rain. The ship crashed into the pier, narrowly averting collisions with other vessels in the harbor.

A navy seaplane was wrecked by the storm.

FILM COLONY OF HOLLYWOOD IN THE COURTS

6 PERSONS CONVICTED OF MAN- SLAUGHTER IN LAST 2 DAYS

DOUBTED WHETHER ANY WOULD BE SENT TO PRISON FOR THEIR CRIMES

By DAN CAMPBELL

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Hollywood, Cal., May 26.—Although six persons within the film colony have been convicted of manslaughter during the last two days for two "gin and jazz" deaths, Hollywood today doubted whether any would be sent to prison for their crimes.

Already the district attorney's office has indicated it would not oppose for probation from the three women and two men convicted of manslaughter in the death of Tom Kerrick, screen cowboy who was shot during a wild party at his home.

Kerrick's widow, Mrs. Sarah Kerrick, Anita Davis, Iris Burns, Joe Hunt and Henry Isabell, who were jointly convicted, are scheduled to be sentenced tomorrow. At that time the five probably will ask and be granted suspended sentences.

If probation is granted them it is considered possible that similar action will follow in the case of Paul Kelly, young screen star, who was convicted of manslaughter yesterday for the fatal beating he administered to Ray Raymond, musical comedy star.

Deputy District Attorney E. J. Dennison, who prosecuted the Kerrick case, said that in view of the fact that the state could not determine who fired the fatal shots and that the five defendants had "learned their lesson," the state was willing that they be placed on probation.

The foreman of the jury which convicted the five admitted that it acted because it believed "it was time to put a stop to wild gin parties."

STUNT FLYER NEGOTIATES AN 'OUTSIDE LOOP'

Dayton, O., May 26.—(UP)—Lieutenant James H. Doolittle, stunt flyer at McCook Field here, successfully accomplished an "outside loop" for the first time in the history of aviation, announcement was made here today.

Lieutenant Doolittle, who holds a number of records, drove his plane downward at a speed of 280 miles an hour, in making the "outside loop" to gain speed for describing the arc on the upward curve.

The "inside loop" which has become play of most aviators, is made with comparative ease and safety by zooming upward and then turning over. In the "outside loop" this operation is reversed and the pilot is on the outside of the described circle. It is so dangerous it is only seldom attempted. Several aviators have been killed seeking to conquer the stunt.

When he landed Doolittle was suffering severely from the effects of his daring.

LINER ON TRIAL SPIN BADLY RAMMED

MALOLO HAS A GAPING HOLE TORN AMID- SHIPS

NORWEGIAN FREIGHTER BUMPS HER OFF NANTUCKET LIGHT

New York, May 26.—(UP)—The big Matson liner Malolo, newly completed at Philadelphia for the Hawaiian-Pacific trade, was standing off Nantucket light at dawn today with a gaping hole amidships, four feet of water in her firerooms and engine room and two ships waiting in the fog near at hand to give aid if necessary.

The Malolo, making a trial run up the coast to test her speed, was rammed late yesterday by the Norwegian freighter Jacob Christensen, which was badly damaged but was able to proceed on her own power after other ships came up to aid the Malolo.

The steamer Guilford was standing by the Malolo, expecting to take her in tow this morning, the independent Wireless Company learned from the Guilford wireless operator. The coast guard cutter Shaw also was standing by, the Tropical Radio station at Boston learned.

The steamer Fisher also was standing by. During the night the Malolo started to drift but was held fast by a line put aboard her from the Fisher.

The Malolo sent out distress signals shortly after the collision, but the damage turned out to be less serious than had been feared. The water in her engine and fire rooms effectually prevented her from making port during the night under her own steam, however, and the fog was so dense other ships could not attempt to run a towline aboard.

A crew of 100 and 50 guests, including William R. Roth, president of the Matson lines, for whom the boat was built, were aboard. The ship—said to be the most palatial ever built in America—cost $7,600,000.

LINDBERGH IN ANOTHER DAY FULL OF HONORS

WILL BE HIS LAST AND PERHAPS BUSIEST IN THE FRENCH CAPITAL

TOMORROW HE WINGS HIS WAY TO BRUSSELS IN HIS MONOPLANE

By A. L. BRADFORD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, May 26.—Charles Lindbergh set out today on another crowded day of high honors—his last and perhaps his busiest in Paris.

Tomorrow he will crawl into the cramped cabin of his trans-Atlantic monoplane, circle Paris, and wing north to Brussels to pass the time of day with his first king.

Today's program started with a visit by Capt. Lindbergh, Missouri national guard, to Marshal Foch, commander-in-chief of the allied armies in the last year of the war, Marshal Joffre, and wounded war veterans. Luncheon with Foreign Minister Briand at the foreign office, a visit to the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, a triumphal ride down the Champs Elysees and the Rue De Rivoli, and the state reception by municipal officials at the Hotel de Ville were other highlights of the crowded schedule.

Lindbergh did not expect to go to Le Bourget Field. He has entrusted to mechanics at the field the task of putting his plane into shape for his first flight since he crossed the ocean in 33½ hours.

PRINCE OF WALES TO VISIT PARIS ON JULY 10

London, May 26.—(UP)—The Prince of Wales will pay an official visit to Paris July 10, it was announced today.

ROUGH SEA MAY DAMAGE PINEDO PLANE

IS NOW BEING TOWED TO THE AZORES ISLANDS BY SCHOONER

FOG AND HIGH WINDS MAY DE- LAY THE SAILING SHIP

Horta, Island of Fayal, Azores, May 26.—(UP)—A rough sea today caused fear that Col. Francesco De Pinedo's seaplane, Santa Maria II, reported being towed here by the schooner Infante Sagres, may be damaged before it arrives.

The schooner and plane were expected to arrive late today or tomorrow. Fog and high winds today may delay the sailing ship.

Aboard Portuguese Gunboat Biera, at Santa Cruz, Flores Island, Azores, May 26. The Biera was here today awaiting the anticipated arrival of Francesco De Pinedo and his seaplane Santa Maria in tow of the schooner Infante Sagres.

London, May 26.—More than 60 hours had elapsed today since Captain Anderson of the S. S. Oilfield sighted the schooner Infante Sagres towing a seaplane which conformed exactly to descriptions of the craft of Francesco De Pinedo, and anxiety was increasing.

Captain Anderson sighted the schooner and her tow about 150 miles northwest of the Island of Flores, westernmost of the Azores group. From Flores to the Island of Fayal is about 150 miles so that the schooner was 300 miles northwest of the Island when he left Trepassey, Newfoundland, before dawn Monday.

Anderson's personal wireless to the United Press confirmed without possible doubt the exact time and position of sighting the schooner, 9:40 A. M., Greenwich time Monday. That was 4:40 P. M. eastern daylight time.

Basing their announcements on erroneous reports Tuesday night by a British agency other than the United Press, the Italian legation at Lisbon and the Italian embassy here told the newspapers that De Pinedo's seaplane had been towed to Fayal. The newspapers today admitted the information to have been untrue.

Lisbon, May 26.—An unconfirmed wireless message from Ponta Delgada, Azores Islands, today said the Italian steamship Superga had found the schooner Infante Sagres towing the missing seaplane of Francesco De Pinedo.

De Pinedo and the crew of the seaplane, the message said, boarded the Superga. Another Italian steamer the Roma, was reported enroute to meet the vessel with the airmen aboard.

JURY THINKS BUTCHER OF BATH WAS SANE MAN

By CHARLES E. AHRENS

United Press Staff Correspondent

Bath, Mich., May 26.—Andrew P. Kehoe was sane when he murdered his wife and exploded dynamite which killed 38 children, five adults and himself, a coroner's jury of six of his neighbors believed.

The verdict was reached after six minutes of deliberation here last night.

The verdict officially closed the tragedy of a week ago on Wednesday, when Kehoe, after killing his wife, Nellie, and burning the buildings on his farm, dynamited the Bath consolidated school.

MANSION OF ZACHARY TAYLOR NOW DESERTED

ITS PRESENT OWNER AND ALL WORKERS FLEE FROM WATERS

SCORE MORE OF THESE FINE HOMES IN PATH OF FLOODS

By E. W. LEWIS

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New Orleans, La., May 26. Flood talons today seized at the stately and historical estates of New Orleans as waters crept through Point Coupee parish from the wide crevasse of the Atchafalaya river.

Near Innes the mansion where Zachary Taylor once lived is now deserted. Its present owner, with all plantation workers, has fled before the approaching waters. The mansion is locked and the fine old furniture is piled high within the house.

A score more of these famous old houses of the southland are in the direct path of the waters. All will be inundated within a fortnight, engineers believe.

Between 150 and 175 square miles of the parish will be flooded by tonight, engineers believe. Parishes to the south probably will feel the full brunt of the flood within a few days.

The flood is now attacking the section of the southland that is rich with the romance of the early southern history.

The mansions are great white pillared affairs with sloping eaves leading from them. It was in this district that the romance of the crinoline days was written.

Today this romantic country almost is deserted. The first of the murky waters have spread over the lands and already corn and sugar cane fields have been leveled.

The flood already has coursed 150 miles through the Evangeline country and continues moving on its destructive path.

In Morgan City improvised sidewalks—built on scaffolding already are in use. The Southern Pacific railroad probably will be endangered there within a few days, engineers say, as the tracks course directly through the path of the flood.

New Orleans would be cut off from the west should these tracks go out. Refugees today had spread their self-made camps along the west ridge of the Atchafalaya basin. Thousands of Acadians have pastured their cattle and built temporary homes in the bayous just off the river.

New Orleans, May 26.—Evacuation of two more Louisiana parishes started today as flood waters sweeping through the crevasse at McCrae on the Atchafalaya river spread southward into overflowing bayous.

In northern Iberville parish and West Baton Rouge parish, including of farmers' families were on the move.

The great sheet of muddy water now spreads fan-shape over 200 square miles in Point Coupee parish, but will not inundate Iberville and West Baton Rouge for several days, however.

Flood relief headquarters was established in New Orleans today by the Red Cross, having been transferred from Memphis by Henry M. Baker, national Red Cross director of disaster relief.

CAPT. HARVEY D. CLOW DIES AT DULUTH

Duluth, Minn., May 26.—(UP)—All who are connected with shipping activities on the Great Lakes today mourn the passing of Captain Harvey D. Clow, characteristic sea-faring man. He died at a local hospital here late Wednesday.

Captain Clow was president of the Clow-Nicholson Transportation Company and was recognized as Duluth's first mail carrier.

The 58-year-old captain had been a resident of Duluth since 1870.

LITTLE ROCK IN FEAR OF MOB VIOLENCE

Little Rock, Ark., May 26.—(UP)—Little Rock was in fear of more mob violence today, following several attempts by mobs to locate a negro who is alleged to have attacked Miss Lucille Barnes, 23-year-old white woman, in her home here.

The mobs collected yesterday but were dispersed when officers convinced the men that the negro had made his escape. A crowd of men gathered in North Little Rock last night and searched for Miss Barnes' assailant until after midnight.

A close watch was being kept today on down town streets and near the negro section to prevent crowds gathering.

"KING" BENJAMIN PURNELL AND THE "HOUSE OF DAVID"

MORE TESTIMONY ON ALLEGED BEGUILING OF GIRLS IN TEENS

EXPECTED TO BE REVEALED AT TODAY'S COURT SESSION

By EDWIN L. HECKLER

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Court Room, St. Joseph, Mich., May 26.—More testimony on alleged beguiling of girls in their teens by "King" Benjamin Franklin Purnell and activities of the House of David were expected to be revealed today when trial of the state's dissolution suit against the colony is resumed.

Dolly Wheeler, New York, a former "Shiloh girl," was expected to resume the witness stand for a brief cross examination which may, after five days' adjournment, reveal some of Purnell's defense. House of David lawyers have been largely content hitherto with a general denial of the former members' charges.

If plans of George E. Nichols, special prosecutor, are carried out, Esther Hansel, former confidante of Purnell, will take the stand as soon as preliminaries are disposed of today. The state's case is largely built around what Purnell's former workers have revealed, according to Nichols.

Mrs. Hansel, who came to the Benton Harbor colony from Gilroy, Cal., in 1902, was one of the pioneer members. Her father, Edward Johnson, is still loyal to Benjamin—self-styled seventh messenger of the ingathering of the Israelites.

Her history as a member of the cult includes activity as an evangelist when she was 14.

Part of her probable story will deal with a trip to High Island colony, lumber camp cut off from the mainland of Michigan by 45 miles of water, for the purpose of arranging the first of a series of group marriages.

The weddings, at which 10 to 20 couples were married at once, were meaningless ceremonies, according to the participants, as they were never allowed to live together as man and wife.

GUN BATTLE GETS RID OF ONE BANDIT

St. Joseph, Mo., May 26.—(UP)—One bandit was killed and another was believed wounded in a gun battle here today following robbery of a local bank of $5,000. The bandits who escaped are being pursued by an air patrol from Kansas City.

NORFOLK FACES MOUNTING DEATH TOLL BY STORM

Norfolk, Va., May 26.—(UP)—Norfolk faced a mounting death toll following a cyclonic windstorm which yesterday demolished parts of a grandstand seating 3,000 baseball fans including Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, unroofed a warehouse and did other damage.

Already six were dead and several others among a score taken to hospitals were expected to die. Judge Landis escaped injury along with other notables.

HAS THE MOST AMAZING DAY OF HIS LIFE

WILL BE DIFFICULT FOR NEW YORK TO EQUAL FRENCH RECEPTION

UNPRECEDENTED POPULAR AC- CLAIM MARVELOUS TO BEHOLD

By A. L. BRADFORD

(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, May 26.—Captain Charles Lindbergh today spent the most amazing day in the 25 years of his life, as the heroes and statesmen and people of Paris combined to do him honor.

Whether or not New York will outdo her sister city when Lindbergh comes home must remain to be seen, for today's almost unprecedented popular acclaim was marvelous to behold.

One hundred thousand Frenchmen, women and children cheered Lindbergh from the Arc De Triomphe to the city hall. Within the massive structure Lindbergh was roared again, not as a mere airman who had flown across the Atlantic but as a youth who had improved the relations of America and France by his daring.

After receiving the gold medal of the city of Paris in the city hall, Lindbergh and Ambassador Myron T. Herrick left the building together, stopping on the steps to listen to the Star Spangled Banner and the Marseillais.

Today was Ascension Day and all Paris usually goes to the country on the holiday but thousands remained in town to acclaim Lindbergh. Every newspaper carried advertisements linking Lindbergh's name with various wares.

Marshal Foch, "Papa" Joffre, Foreign Minister Briand, municipal dignitaries and the mutilated garrison of veterans at the Invalides joined in the greeting to the airman.

From the city hall, Herrick took Lindbergh to new honors at the Cercle Inter Allie while the crowd assembled outside the building thundered "Vives."

A garden party with prominent French and American society people swallowed Lindbergh at the Cercle Inter Allie, one of the most exclusive spots in Paris. Lindbergh was lionized. Huge cakes in the form of Lindbergh's monoplane lay on the tables. Butlers served Lindbergh cocktails, the basis of which was orange juice and which contained no alcohol.

AGED RECLUSE MAY HAVE BEEN LITERARY MAN

San Antonio, Texas, May 26.—(UP)—An aged recluse found dead in his room here is believed to have been David Colville, writer of short stories. It was thought he man was a pauper until investigation of his effects.

Books found in the one room where the man lived showed he had large deposits in several banks here and that he was a stockholder in the New York Graphic, the MacFadden and other New York publications.

He is also believed to have owned stock in the Mountain States Telegraph Company of Denver.

A sister located here did not know of her brother's presence until his death yesterday.

BELLANCA PLANE TO RACE TO HAWAII

New York, May 26.—(UP)—The Bellanca monoplane "Columbia," the holder of the world endurance flight record, will be entered for the $35,000 Dole prize contest for a flight from the Pacific coast to the Hawaiian Islands.

Charles A. Levine, president of the Columbia Aircraft Corporation, in making the announcement, said another flight was being projected in the meantime, although no objective had yet been chosen.

Clarence D. Chamberlin, co-pilot with Bert Acosta when the endurance record was won, would be the pilot on the Pacific trip, Levine said.

The newspapers today admitted the information to have been untrue.

Lisbon, May 26.—An unconfirmed wireless message from Ponta Delgada, Azores Islands, today said the Italian steamship Superga had found the schooner Infante Sagres towing the missing seaplane of Francesco De Pinedo.

De Pinedo and the crew of the seaplane, the message said, boarded the Superga. Another Italian steamer the Roma, was reported enroute to meet the vessel with the airmen aboard.

JURY THINKS BUTCHER OF BATH WAS SANE MAN

By CHARLES E. AHRENS
United Press Staff Correspondent

Bath, Mich., May 26.—Andrew P. Kehoe was sane when he murdered his wife and exploded dynamite which killed 38 children, five adults and himself, a coroner's jury of six of his neighbors believed.

The verdict was reached after six minutes of deliberation here last night.

The verdict officially closed the tragedy of a week ago on Wednesday, when Kehoe, after killing his wife, Nellie, and burning the buildings on his farm, dynamited the Bath consolidated school.

MANSION OF ZACHARY TAYLOR NOW DESERTED

ITS PRESENT OWNER AND ALL WORKERS FLEE FROM WATERS

SCORE MORE OF THESE FINE HOMES IN PATH OF FLOODS

By E. W. LEWIS
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New Orleans, La., May 26. Flood talons today seized at the stately and historical estates of New Orleans as waters crept through Point Coupee parish from the wide crevasse of the Atchafalaya river.

Near Innes the mansion where Zachary Taylor once lived is now deserted. Its present owner, with all plantation workers, has fled before the approaching waters. The mansion is locked and the fine old furniture is piled high within the house.

A score more of these famous old houses of the southland are in the direct path of the waters. All will be inundated within a fortnight, engineers believe.

Between 150 and 175 square miles of the parish will be flooded by tonight, engineers believe. Parishes to the south probably will feel the full brunt of the flood within a few days.

The flood is now attacking the section of the southland that is rich with the romance of the early southern history.

The mansions are great white pillared affairs with sloping acres leading from them. It was in this district that the romance of the crinolines days was written.

Today this romantic country almost is deserted. The first of the murky waters have spread over the lands and already corn and sugar cane fields have been leveled.

The flood already has coursed 150 miles through the Evangeline country and continues moving on its destructive path.

In Morgan City improvised sidewalks—built on scaffolds already are in use. The Southern Pacific railroad probably will be endangered there within a few days, engineers say, as the tracks course directly through the path of the flood.

New Orleans would be cut off from the west should these tracks go out.

Refugees today had spread their self-made camps along the west ridge of the Atchafalaya basin. Thousands of Acadians have pastured their cattle and built temporary homes in the bayous just off the river.

New Orleans, May 26.—Evacuation of two more Louisiana parishes started today as flood waters sweeping through the crevasse at McCrae on the Atchafalaya river spread southward into overflowing bayous.

In northern Iberville parish and West Baton Rouge parish, including of farmers' families were on the move.

The great sheet of muddy water now spreads fan-shape over 200 square miles in Point Coupee parish, but will not inundate Iberville and West Baton Rouge for several days, however.

Flood relief headquarters was established in New Orleans today by the Red Cross, having been transferred from Memphis by Henry M. Baker, national Red Cross director of disaster relief.

CAPT. HARVEY D. CLOW DIES AT DULUTH

Duluth, Minn., May 26.—(UP)—All who are connected with shipping activities on the Great Lakes today mourn the passing of Captain Harvey D. Clow, characteristic sea-faring man. He died at a local hospital here late Wednesday.

Captain Clow was president of the Clow-Nicholson Transportation Company and was recognized as Duluth's first mail carrier.

The 58-year-old captain had been a resident of Duluth since 1870.

LITTLE ROCK IN FEAR OF MOB VIOLENCE

Little Rock, Ark., May 26.—(UP)—Little Rock was in fear of more mob violence today, following several attempts by mobs to locate a negro who is alleged to have attacked Miss Lucille Barnes, 23-year-old white woman, in her home here.

The mobs collected yesterday but were dispersed when officers convinced the men that the negro had made his escape. A crowd of men gathered in North Little Rock last night and searched for Miss Barnes' assailant until after midnight.

A close watch was being kept today on down town streets and near the negro section to prevent crowds gathering.

"KING" BENJAMIN PURNELL AND THE "HOUSE OF DAVID"

MORE TESTIMONY ON ALLEGED REGULING OF GIRLS IN TEENS

EXPECTED TO BE REVEALED AT TODAY'S COURT SESSION

By EDWIN L. HECKLER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Court Room, St. Joseph, Mich., May 26.—More testimony on alleged beguiling of girls in their teens by "King" Benjamin Franklin Purnell and activities of the House of David were expected to be revealed today when trial of the state's dissolution suit against the colony is resumed.

Dolly Wheeler, New York, a former "Shiloh girl," was expected to resume the witness stand for a brief cross examination which may, after five days' adjournment, reveal some of Purnell's defense. House of David lawyers have been largely content hitherto with a general denial of the former members' charges.

If plans of George E. Nichols, special prosecutor, are carried out, Esther Hansel, former confidante of Purnell, will take the stand as soon as preliminaries are disposed of today. The state's case is largely built around what Purnell's former workers have revealed, according to Nichols.

Mrs. Hansel, who came to the Benton Harbor colony from Gilroy, Cal., in 1902, was one of the pioneer members. Her father, Edward Johnson, is still loyal to Benjamin—self-styled seventh messenger of the ingathering of the Israelites.

Her history as a member of the cult includes activity as an evangelist when she was 14.

Part of her probable story will deal with a trip to High Island colony, lumber camp cut off from the mainland of Michigan by 45 miles of water, for the purpose of arranging the first of a series of group marriages.

The weddings, at which 10 to 20 couples were married at once, were meaningless ceremonies, according to the participants, as they were never allowed to live together as man and wife.

GUN BATTLE GETS RID OF ONE BANDIT

St. Joseph, Mo., May 26.—(UP)—One bandit was killed and another was believed wounded in a gun battle here today following robbery of a local bank of $5,000. The bandits who escaped are being pursued by an air patrol from Kansas City.

NORFOLK FACES MOUNTING DEATH TOLL BY STORM

Norfolk, Va., May 26.—(UP)—Norfolk faced a mounting death toll following a cyclonic windstorm which yesterday demolished parts of a grandstand seating 3,000 baseball fans including Judge Kenesaw Mountain Landis, unroofed a warehouse and did other damage.

Already six were dead and several others among a score taken to hospitals were expected to die. Judge Landis escaped injury along with other notables.

HAS THE MOST AMAZING DAY OF HIS LIFE

WILL BE DIFFICULT FOR NEW YORK TO EQUAL FRENCH RECEPTION

UNPRECEDENTED POPULAR AC- CLAIM MARVELOUS TO BEHOLD

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, May 26.—Captain Charles Lindbergh today spent the most amazing day in the 25 years of his life, as the heroes and statesmen and people of Paris combined to do him honor.

Whether or not New York will outdo her sister city when Lindbergh comes home must remain to be seen, for today's almost unprecedented popular acclaim was marvelous to behold.

One hundred thousand Frenchmen, women and children cheered Lindbergh from the Arc de Triomphe to the city hall. Within the massive structure Lindbergh was roared again, not as a mere airman who had flown across the Atlantic but as a youth who had improved the relations of America and France by his daring.

After receiving the gold medal of the city of Paris in the city hall, Lindbergh and Ambassador Myron T. Herrick left the building together, stopping on the steps to listen to the Star Spangled Banner and the Marseillais.

Today was Ascension Day and all Paris usually goes to the country on the holiday but thousands remained in town to acclaim Lindbergh. Every newspaper carried advertisements linking Lindbergh's name with various wares.

Marshal Foch, "Papa" Joffre, Foreign Minister Briand, municipal dignitaries and the mutilated garrison of veterans at the Invalides joined in the greeting to the airman.

From the city hall, Herrick took Lindbergh to new honors at the Cercle Inter Allie while the crowd assembled outside the building thundered "Vives."

A garden party with prominent French and American society people swallowed Lindbergh at the Cercle Inter Allie, one of the most exclusive spots in Paris. Lindbergh was lionized. Huge cakes in the form of Lindbergh's monoplane lay on the tables. Butlers served Lindbergh cocktails, the basis of which was orange juice and which contained no alcohol.

AGED RECLUSE MAY HAVE BEEN LITERARY MAN

San Antonio, Texas, May 26.—(UP)—An aged recluse found dead in his room here is believed to have been David Colville, writer of short stories. It was thought he man was a pauper until investigation of his effects.

Books found in the one room where the man lived showed he had large deposits in several banks here and that he was a stockholder in the New York Graphic, the MacFadden and other New York publications.

He is also believed to have owned stock in the Mountain States Telegraph Company of Denver.

A sister located here did not know of her brother's presence until his death yesterday.

BELLANCA PLANE TO RACE TO HAWAII

New York, May 26.—(UP)—The Bellanca monoplane "Columbia," the holder of the world endurance flight record, will be entered for the $35,000 Dole prize contest for a flight from the Pacific coast to the Hawaiian Islands.

Charles A. Levine, president of the Columbia Aircraft Corporation, in making the announcement, said another flight was being projected in the meantime, although no objective had yet been chosen.

Clarence D. Chamberlain, co-pilot with Bert Acosta when the endurance record was won, would be the pilot on the Pacific trip, Levine said.

When old summer comes to bat
We have to buy a new straw hat.

A good orchestra doesn't make poor cooking taste any better.

If close bobbing continues in favor we predict that the men will go back to whisks, and challenge the women to follow them.

If you like bitter-sweet flavors in food you should be satisfied with life because that seems to be the predominant flavor of human existence.

A Little Falls radio dealer went to a church recently to give a demonstration before the Ladies' Aid and he couldn't get a thing but jazz music and the returns of a prize fight.

Now that the sun is shining we'll write about sun parlors.

A sun parlor has all the advantages of a porch in the summer, and all the pleasures of a sun-shiney room in the winter. You can have a sun parlor on your home at very small expense, either by making an addition or converting your present porch into one. It's a dandy idea. Ask the family who has a sun parlor.

A man went in to Johnson's Drug Store the other day and asked for one cent's worth of insect powder. "Why," said Dick, "that isn't enough to wrap up."

"Who said anything about wrapping it up? Just blow it down my back."

Sometimes the best way to improve a town is to clean out the boosters' committee.

"Pardon me, did you drop your handkerchief during the last dance?"

"Oh, I was never so embarrassed in my life. That wasn't my handkerchief, that was my dress."

Thanks, Anna, send us some more.

CHAMBER COMMERCE WONDERFUL MEETING

Double Meeting of Lions Club and Chamber in Attendance at Delicious Supper

PREPARE FOR TOURISTS

Lecture on Fur Farm, Dairy Sire Celebration, 2 June Conventions, to Greet Sorority

The best attended supper and general meeting at the Chamber of Commerce in many months was held last night. The house and social committee with Frank G. Hall as chairman outdid itself in the menu provided and the service accorded. It was a dual supper at the start, with the Chamber of Commerce men in one room and the Lions conducting their regular luncheon meeting in an adjoining room.

At the Chamber session President R. R. Gould presided. He smiled affably as he looked at the crowd and his face glowed with real pleasure to see the interest manifested and the amount of real community good accomplished. So many things came up, that it is difficult to single out any one as being the most important.

In the order of precedence, the first speaker was Mayor Frank E. Little, who told of the city's plan to assist in welcoming the tourists to Brainerd. Cards bearing such welcome will be distributed at all hours by the policemen on duty. His cooperation was given hearty approval.

Albert A. Robins of Minneapolis, head of the 10,000 Lakes Fur Farm Corporation, gave an address on fur bearing animals as propagated by his company and later showed moving pictures of scenes at their ranches, muskrat houses, improvements made, closing with a reel devoted to picturing the George Ramsey beaver farm, which Mr. Robins claims is the largest one of its kind in the United States and that Ramsey has gained a national reputation as knowing more about the beaver and its habits than any other man.

"The commercial production of fur must be carried on in a scientific manner," said Mr. Robins. He said they had selected land from which the best muskrats had come. In the Chicago markets, for instance, buyers know the exact townships in Crow Wing county which furnish the best fur.

The fur rabbit industry is a coming one in the future. A fur coat of moderate cost will last two years and will reach a market patronized by the average woman or working girl. Although in business but a year and a half the company has produced considerable pelts which have found a ready market. He expected their activities for the many ranches they are developing would radiate from Brainerd as a center. Ranches in the vicinity of Brainerd include the Brainerd-Oak Lawn branch, Perry Lake rice bed and ranch and the Pine River ranch.

Creamery Convention
V. Lockwood of Motley, president of District No. 15 of the Land O' Lakes Inc., told of the fifth annual meeting to be held Thursday, June 2 in the Chamber of Commerce.

The morning session will be taken up with routine business while in the afternoon John Brandt, president of the association will give an address. The Chamber will furnish a complimentary luncheon at the noon hour.

"Minnesota is the bread and butter state," said Mr. Lockwood. He paid the Brainerd Farmers Cooperative Creamery a high compliment on the butter they were making. This institution last year paid out in cream checks some $200,000 to the farmers of the vicinity.

Annual meetings of the district organization are now alternately held in Brainerd and Little Falls. He expected 100 delegates to be present. He asked the business men to make it a point to be present at 2 o'clock in the afternoon and hear Mr. Brandt.

Water Levels Hearing
On June 6 the hearing on water levels will be held at the Chamber of Commerce rooms, government officials hearing testimony offered. Dr. J. A. Thabes and former Senator Hilding Swanson spoke on the importance of maintaining proper water levels in our lakes, and not denuding the country of water in the summer time. On motion carried, President Gould was instructed to appoint a committee of seven to represent the Chamber at the hearing.

Dairy Sire Celebration
On June 18 the dairy sire celebration will be held in Brainerd, when there will be an exchange of sires of the various blocks. County Agent E. G. Roth suggested prizes for those caretakers who had kept their animals in the best condition. There will also be from 50 to 100 heifers and prizes should also be offered in this class, he said. F. H. Gruenhagen also expected the Chamber to back the committee to the extent of $200 to $300. Prizes would come to about $100. Grounds will have to be fenced and stanchions provided. Speakers to address the gathering, it is hoped will include President Donnelly of the Northern Pacific and Dean Coffey of the University of Minnesota. County Commissioner Lowey also spoke on the subject. The support of the Chamber was accorded the project.

Motorcycle Gypsy Tour
H. A. Hayes mentioned that various motorcycle associations of Minnesota had decided to have a gypsy tour to Brainerd June 18 and 19. Although the Chamber of Commerce could not back the convention financially they have decided to come anyway. On motion carried the Chamber extended them a cordial invitation. There is no race track in Brainerd, but an exciting hill climb can be staged at Ahren's Hill with enough hair raising stunts and upsets to thrill any crowd of spectators. Mr. Hayes hoped some prizes can be secured for the various events and stunts.

Pi Beta Phi Coming
On Sunday June 26 two special trains will arrive at Brainerd at 4 p. m. and 6 p. m. conveying 700 members of the Pi Beta Phi to Breezy Point. Northern Pacific officials cooperating with Captain and Mrs. W. H. Fawcett have arranged for stops of each train at Brainerd giving Brainerd ladies an opportunity to meet the distinguished guests. Arrangements are being made to have the Brainerd Ladies band welcome each train. Courtesies shown the ladies at the Twin Cities include extended motor trips. A large proportion of them are from the east and every large city on their route is showing them every possible courtesy. Mrs. Calvin Coolidge first lady of the land is a member of this sorority. Literary, professional, and executive ladies are members.

Glad Handing Committee
The glad handing committee starts operations Friday and volunteers will be recruited from the Chamber of Commerce, Lions and Rotary clubs. Two men will start Friday working from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m. A large group goes on Saturday morning at 9 o'clock and continues to 7 p. m. Two men handle the Sunday business. These workers are in addition to the police force who will work day and night while on their beats distributing welcome cards to every visiting tourist they may see.

Measuring Gold Dust

The bureau of mines says that in the early days in California, when they paid in gold dust, they had a small measure about 3 inches long and 1 inch wide and about 3/4 of an inch high, which they called a scoop. Gold dust was paid by the scoop and it would vary with the individual gold camp, as the gold dust in some camps was finer than in others.

GREATER MINNESOTA WEEK

As emphasized by the Ten Thousand Lakes Association in Greater Minnesota Week, our state is one of the great states of the Union. It ranks well toward the top in population and wealth. Recently an official estimate of population in all the states has been made and it appears that Minnesota ranks fifteenth among all the states in population.

We lead such old states as Alabama, Connecticut, Florida, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Mississippi, Oklahoma, Tennessee and Virginia, while many other states trail far in the rear.

Minnesota is coming to the lead in many things. We produce more butter than any state in the Union. We produce more iron ore than any other similar territory in the world. We have one of the finest road systems in the country, and we are the leading farm cooperative state in the Union.

As stated by Ray P. Chase, State Auditor and Land Commissioner, we are committed irrevocably to the policy of good schools and are glad that this is so. We are committed definitely to the policy of good roads, that transportation may be easier, markets brought nearer the farmers and farms nearer the markets, that all points of the great inland empire known as Minnesota, may be within easy reach of all other sections.

"Minnesota was blessed by the Creator with wonderful natural advantages; a delightful climate, adequate rainfall, fertile and productive soil, rare scenic beauties, wonderful natural resources in land, timber, minerals, water power and navigable rivers and lakes. On this enduring foundation the economic structure of the state is being built. The fathers who early shaped its destiny visioned a commonwealth that would lead the sisterhood, a state with all resources developed, all agricultural land under cultivation, potential wealth carefully husbanded and preserved, and populated with a virile, progressive people, such a people as the character of our early immigrants suggested."

As stated by J. M. McConnell, Commissioner of Education, the public schools enroll approximately 550,000 pupils and employ around 22,000 teachers. The ratio of teachers to pupils is higher, due to the large number of small one-room schools. There are, in round numbers, 7,300 one-room schools, of which about 3,000 enroll fewer than twenty pupils each, and perhaps 500 of these, fewer than ten.

During the last school year there were in the state 258 fully accredited state high schools, and 184 high school departments likewise giving high school courses. There were enrolled a total, in round numbers, of 84,000 high school students, of whom 14,550, or 17 per cent, graduated.

Minnesota's lake shore line is a valuable asset. No one has ever attempted to estimate the amount of shore line the Minnesota lakes have, much less the shore line of the rivers, but it is safe to say that if all this shore line were straightened out it would encompass the world more than once and it would amount to more than the shore line of the boundary waters of the United States.

There is no place on the face of the earth the size of Minnesota that has so much shore line. Hundreds of islands in the lakes give the state additional shore line. An idea as to the number of these islands may be gained when it is known that Burt Lake has 60, Lake Vermilion has 365, Rainy Lake, which is international water, has more than 1,000 and Lake of the Woods, another international body, has more than 14,000.

From a very modest beginning sixty years ago, the livestock industry in Minnesota has grown into one of the largest activities in the state, from the farmer's standpoint, until in the year 1926, Minnesota livestock was more profitable than grain crops to the average farm.

This is remarkable when it is considered that in 1867 there were only 100,000 cows on Minnesota farms. With more than one million, five hundred thousand cows now on farms, Minnesota farm owners last year marketed $116,008,385 of livestock.

The cows and chickens on Minnesota farms each year produce more than two hundred million dollars' worth of milk, eggs and calves.

The combination of natural and artificial highways of commerce, as stated by Harrison Hatton, gives Minnesota an outstanding position in transportation affairs that is reflected in the great volume of business transacted in its leading centers. Not only the wheat and lumber and fruits, vegetables and cereals of Oregon, Washington and British Columbia come eastward to Minnesota via the great northern transcontinental lines of railway, but a considerable amount of Oriental products, brought from China and Japan, are elements of importance in the state's commerce.

Its geographical location and its unsurpassed transportation facilities have made of Minnesota the greatest distributing center for and the natural gateway to the vast commerce of the Canadian and Pacific Northwest. It is the chief railway center of the Northwest and one of the greatest in the United States.

In the Brainerd and Crow Wing county area one finds the iron range, forests and lakes and streams of every kind, the land beloved by the Chippewas, the early fur traders, the disciples of Izaak Walton and all of those who find solace in outdoor life.

Minnesota cooperative organizations, covering a great diversity of farm crops, are doing an annual business of considerable magnitude. Annual reports of these organizations show that a total business of $95,405,024 was done by these institutions in 1926. The Land O' Lakes Creameries, Inc., of which our Brainerd Farmers Cooperative Creamery is a member, did business amounting to $39,851,655.92.

Automobile ownership in Minnesota during the last five years has doubled. During 1927, the owners of close to 700,000 automobiles will pay to the state a total of $10,000,000 in motor vehicle registration taxes.

Minnesota makes the best flour in the world and she manufactures more flour than any other state in the nation. Minneapolis is the flour milling capital of the world, and as such is known throughout the United States and Europe. Wherever flour is sold and bread is baked, Minnesota flour is the standard for quality and wholesomeness. This proud position for Minnesota has been achieved in a little more than half a century of flour production.

Minnesota has much to interest and delight the tourist, says H. C. Hotelling, executive secretary of the Ten Thousand Lakes of Minnesota Association. Minnesota has state and national parks which altogether contain more than 2,500,000 acres of land. Minnesota's boast of Ten Thousand Lakes is but a modest claim. She has that number and many more. These vary in size. Each is a gem in itself adding much to its surroundings, and usually its depths are filled with many varieties of the finest game fish. In parts of these state these lakes are found unexpectedly here and there as a rare jewel, while in other sections one lake is hardly reached before another and yet another comes into view.

Until the Minnesota resident has traveled in his state from Lake of the Woods to the Iowa state line, from the Wisconsin boundary to the Dakotas, he has no conception of the beauties and attractions of the Land of Ten Thousand Lakes.

The Baptist Young Peoples Union gave an ice cream social in Walker's hall on Saturday evening at which all the young ladies wore bloomers. It was well attended considering the other attractions that were on for that night, and the young ladies netted about $17. The ice cream was the best having been served by the Hazens. The rose bloomers were given by Mr. Dodd.

Rev. Morton of the People's church in East Brainerd preached a sermon on Sunday morning on "The Joy of Giving." The reverend gentleman's sermon was so powerful and convincing that a collection netting over $30 was taken up for mission work, notwithstanding it is one of the smallest congregations in the city.

W. E. Seelye and F. C. Bolln have returned from their southern trip where they went with the party interested in the gold mines in North Carolina. They report a very pleasant trip.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kiebler who lately sold their farm to Mr. Eastman and moved into the city to live with their daughter, Mrs. Witham, have their new cottage at 622 Fifth Street South about completed.

Dr. Watkins will leave tomorrow for his old home in Michigan for a month's visit.

"LET'S MAKE A CAKE!"

(Editor's Note: This is one of the unique series of cooking articles appearing weekly in this paper.)

"Nothing difficult about cake-making so long as you make sure of three things before you start—a steady oven temperature, constant air circulation, and the careful, exact measurements of all ingredients," says Mrs. Kate Brew Vaughn, household economics director, Los Angeles Evening Express. "And what a chance for cake variety there is! Here are two of my favorite recipes, date cake, and orange cake."

MRS. KATE B. VAUGHN

Put soda and the cup of boiling water over the dates and let stand until you have creamed the sugar and shortening, add the eggs (need not be beaten). Add flour, baking powder, salt. Then add clear water, and nuts the last thing. Bake slowly (300 degrees). This may be served with whipped cream as a pudding.

Date Cake

- 1 cup sugar
- 3 tablespoons shortening
- 1 egg
- 1 cup dates
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 cups flour
- 1 teaspoon soda
- 1/2 cup boiling water
- 1/2 cup flour
- 2 tablespoons baking powder

Put soda and the cup of boiling water over the dates and let stand until you have creamed the sugar and shortening, add the eggs (need not be beaten). Add flour, baking powder, salt. Then add clear water, and nuts the last thing. Bake slowly (300 degrees). This may be served with whipped cream as a pudding.

Orange Cake

- 1 1/2 cups sugar
- 1/2 cup shortening
- 3 eggs (separated)
- 3/4 cup strained orange juice
- 1/4 cup water
- 1 tablespoon grated orange rind
- 1 cup flour
- 3 teaspoons baking powder
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon orange extract

Cream the shortening and sugar thoroughly, add a little water. When very light add the well beaten yolks of eggs and as quickly as possible add the dry ingredients which have been sifted together, and the liquid. Beat three whites of eggs and add with the rind of orange and extract.

Bake in 2 or 3 layers in slow oven (300 degrees) and slowly increase heat to 350 degrees F. Decrease when begins to brown. Use orange icing. When the icing has set on cake, press down into same, sections of the orange in a rather thin wreath about the edge and a star made of the sections, in the center of the cake.

Always mix cakes thoroughly, work quickly, and bake as soon as mixed. After your cakes are in the oven, never reduce the heat until cakes are fully risen.

Perfect air circulation is necessary for good baking results, as most women know. One manufacturer has invented an oven which uses the "live heat" principle, and keeps the air in constant circulation. 108 small holes let the air into the oven, and out. All odors are carried away.

New Orleans Gingerbread

"Good for children, good for adults," says Miss Rosa Michaelis, New Orleans cooking expert, of gingerbread. "And what a tempting dessert it makes, topped with whipped cream and a few nuts!" This is the recipe Miss Michaelis uses—

- 3 eggs
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup flour
- 1 cup molasses
- 1 cup butter
- 1 cup buttermilk
- 1 tablespoon soda
- 2 tablespoons ginger
- 1 teaspoon cinnamon
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1 cup butter or 1/2 cup liquid shortening

Cream shortening and sugar. Add yolks of eggs, molasses, the buttermilk in which the soda has been dissolved. Sift together flour, salt, ginger and cinnamon. Add to first mixture, then beaten whites. Bake in square pans for an hour, cut into squares and ice.

Delicate Angel Food

Angel food, that test of a good cook, is easily made according to the recipe of Miss Margaret A. Hall, teacher at the Battle Creek College of Home Economics. The secret is in starting with a cold oven.

- 1 cup egg whites
- 1 cup pastry flour
- 1 1/2 cups fine granulated sugar
- 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar
- 1/2 teaspoon vanilla extract
- 1/2 teaspoon almond extract

Sift flour once and measure, then sift four times. Sift sugar four times. Place egg whites on large platter, beat until foamy, add cream of tartar and continue beating until stiff but not dry.

Add the sugar, a tablespoonful at a time, fold in carefully until all has been added. Then add flour in the same manner. Fold in flavoring. Pour into unbuttered tube pan, place in cold oven, light burners, gradually increasing temperature to 325° to 350° (moderate). Bake for fifty to sixty minutes. Remove cake from oven, invert pan, allowing cake to remain suspended in pan until cold.

When's the Cake Done?
 Here are three reliable tests for cakes. They are done when:
 1. They "creep" away from sides of pan.
 2. They spring back at the touch of finger.
 3. They won't stick to a clean straw or toothpick.

In hot weather a woman is certainly justified in thinking of her own comfort in the kitchen. Thousands of women have learned that an electric stove is a big aid in keeping the kitchen cool. It saves work, too. No need to chop and carry. No coal to haul. And no messy ashes.

Yesterday's hero — Carmen Hill, Pittsburgh, pitched the league leading Pirates to their seventh successive victory. Cincinnati was the victim, 2 to 0. Hill triumphed over Carl Mays in a mound battle in which six hits were garnered off Hill's delivery and five off Mays'. The Corsairs, however, bunched blows in the fourth inning when they counted both tallies.

The Chicago Cubs, right behind the Pirates for National League leadership, lost ground by splitting even with the champion Cardinals. Homers by Bell and Bottomley enabled the Cards to take the first, pitched by a former Cub and outstanding hero of the 1926 world's series, Grover Cleveland Alexander. In the second game Sherdel was picked for twelve hits and retired in the eighth inning. The Cubs won, 8 to 5.

hits; many of them for extra bases. Pitcher Willis Hudlin emerged victorious in a slugfest with Detroit, 9 to 6. There were seven three-base hits.

The Chicago White Sox won a double-header from the St. Louis Browns, the first 14 to 8. In the second Ted Lyons blanked the Browns, 1 to 0. The twin triumph advanced the Sox to within two games of the league-leading Yanks.

Milwaukee, Wis. — Minneapolis stepped into second place in the American Association by virtue of a 5 to 3 win over Milwaukee. Home runs by Duncan and Kelley brought about the Miller victory.

Columbus, O. — A three-run lead by Indianapolis didn't stand and Columbus turned in a 7 to 6 victory. Brickell and Florence hit home runs, scoring five of the Indianapolis total.

St. Paul — Sheehan held St. Paul to six hits while Kansas City was hammering Zahniser for fifteen and the Blues won, 10 to 3. Stuvengen and McGowan got homers.

Louisville, Ky. — The Mudhens continued their winning streak by taking the first game of the series from Louisville, 13 to 4. It was the fifth straight victory for Toledo.

A good game up to the fourth inning with the Scrap Dock leading, 2 to 0, the Bye Co. went on a batting rampage in the fourth inning, scoring fifteen runs and winning the game. Heavy hitting featured. Errors on the part of the Dock also helped in the large score. Ericsson pitching for the Bye Co., held the heavy Dock team to three hits, and was never in danger. He had six strikeouts. PARIS CLAIMS
LINDBERGH AS HER OWN LAD

WELCOME ACCORDED HIM SUR-
PASSES ALL EXPECTA-TIONS

EXCEEDED ONLY BY THAT GIVEN
FRANKLIN, WILSON OR
PERSHING

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, May 26.—Surpassing in enthusiasm the welcome accorded any single American excepting only Benjamin Franklin, Woodrow Wilson and John J. Pershing, 100,000
Frenchmen and women today deafeningly acclaimed Capt. Charles Lindbergh a hero as he swiftly rode down
the Champs Elysees.

For this afternoon at least Lindbergh belonged to Paris. He was her favorite son.

About 8,000 persons were packed 50 deep at the city hall when Lindbergh arrived.

During the ceremony inside the city hall, 20,000 persons outside shouted his name and cheered. The Garde Republicaine was holding the crowd with difficulty.

The capital of France was claiming Lindbergh as its own.

The city officials created a new flag in honor of Lindbergh. One side of the flag bore the French tricolor, the other side was the Stars and Stripes of the United States.

All Paris was fluttering with the Franco-American colors. Traffic was stopped along Lindbergh's route an hour before the flier's departure from the American embassy.

Promptly at 3 P. M., Pierre Godin,
president of the municipal council and Prefect Bouji of the Seine, rode to the American embassy, whence they conducted Lindbergh on the triumphant progress from the Arc
De Triomphe down the Champs Ely-sees to the Place De La Concorde and thence to the Rue De Rivoli, and to the city hall, where he was officially received by the city of Paris.

Grouped around the Arc De Triomphe and the Champs Elysees were the picturesque Garde Republicaine mounted on horseback. They with the assistance of police, controlled the crowd.

Lindbergh was dressed in his new gray suit, which does not fit, and was bareheaded. He constantly saluted the crowds.

Men and women tried to climb trees for a better view as Lindbergh drove swiftly by. He does not like to be late. Along the Champs Ely-sees were 25,000 to 30,000 persons, 10,000 in the Place De La Concorde, and 20,000 to 30,000 more in the Rue De Rivoli.

As Lindbergh's motor car passed through the Place De Concorde, the crowd converged behind, scores trying to follow on foot but without avail.

Scores in the Tuilleries ran into the street, further adding to the jam at the city hall. The car with Lindbergh in it passed so quickly that the crowd was still cheering two minutes after it had gone by.

Lindbergh and Ambassador Myron T. Herrick were in the rear seat of the official automobile which was preceded by motorcycle policemen.
Behind were the cars of the prefect of police and other official automobiles.

Thousands of children in the crowd further along had toy airplanes and rubber balloons bearing the names of Lindbergh's plane and the name of "the pilot."

Outside the city hall, which is ordinarily a street car terminus, the trams had to be re-routed because of the crowds. Street musicians, of whom there are many here, wrote songs especially for Lindbergh, and they sold fast. One song stressed that Lindbergh had been called a "flying fool" but that Paris was proud of him.

Every window of the Hotel Crillon and along the Champs Elysees held several peering heads.

Lindbergh entered the city hall through the great doors which last opened to meet the Sultan of Morocco. The airman passed through a lane formed by members of the Garde Republicaine. They were in full dress, plumes flowing from helmets and patent leather boots reaching to the white breeches at their knees. Their uniform coats were covered with gold braid. Lindbergh seemed to be more interested in the gay guards than in the ovations he had received.

Inside the city hall, Lindbergh was received with the honors usually reserved for crowned heads or older men, but which had been considered a fitting tribute for this comet from the west.

President D'Herbecourt of the Seine general council, and others welcomed Lindbergh to the city hall.

"Only a poet," said D'Herbecourt,
"could have conceived the idea of your flight single-handed. But if you succeeded it was due to the efforts of scientists and industrialists of all countries and the daring acts of your aerial predecessors. So, in you, we salute all those who for 30 years risked their lives to advance
the science of flight."

Paul Boujou, prefect of the Seine,
said:

"I recall how 20 years ago, the Wright brothers came to France braving skepticism and criticism but they found encouragement among good Frenchmen. We are proud that our two present ministers, Paul Pain-leve and Louis Barthou, were among the Wright brothers' first passengers."

Jean Chiappe, prefect of police,
said:

"You have shown that there is no limit to the power of science and will over nature."

Pierre Godin, president of the municipal council, recalled that Louis Bleriot had sat in the same chair during a similar ceremony at the city hall after flying across the English Channel in 1909.

"Destiny favored you," said Godin to Lindbergh, "but you had grand courage combined with knowledge and experience. You have opened a tremendous new field of commercial aviation."

BEAR GREET'S PARTY

Young Men Hiking in St. Mathias
Woods See Mr. Bruin;

Dog is Injured

That black bears really roam the woods of Crow Wing county is proved by Roy Avery, Frank Perlinger and Rudolph S. Keppers who say they saw a Mr. Bruin several times in the woods of St. Mathias township.

Early this week the three young men on a hiking trip were startled by a sudden parting of the bushes in their path and the appearance of a full sized black bear. The dog in the company of the party walked up curiously to the visitor, sniffed, and barked but hastily retreated when the bear slapped him, inflicting a deep wound. The bear, further undisturbed, perambulated lazily

through the brush.

The general opinion upheld by outdoors men in the county is that the bear will not molest a person unless first threatened.

"Flu" caused all the trouble," she and all the dregs of that illness seemed to settle in my stomach. Before catch-

PARIS CLAIMS LINDBERGH AS HER OWN LAD

WELCOME ACCORDED HIM SUR-
PASSES ALL EXPECTA-TIONS

EXCEEDED ONLY BY THAT GIVEN
FRANKLIN, WILSON OR
PERSHING

By A. L. BRADFORD
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Paris, May 26.—Surpassing in enthusiasm the welcome accorded any single American excepting only Benjamin Franklin, Woodrow Wilson and John J. Pershing, 100,000 Frenchmen and women today defiantly acclaimed Capt. Charles Lindbergh a hero as he swiftly rode down the Champs Elysees.

For this afternoon at least Lindbergh belonged to Paris. He was her favorite son.

About 8,000 persons were packed 50 deep at the city hall when Lindbergh arrived.

During the ceremony inside the city hall, 20,000 persons outside shouted his name and cheered. The Garde Republicaine was holding the crowd with difficulty.

The capital of France was claiming Lindbergh as its own.

The city officials created a new flag in honor of Lindbergh. One side of the flag bore the French tricolor, the other side was the Stars and Stripes of the United States.

All Paris was fluttering with the Franco-American colors. Traffic was stopped along Lindbergh's route an hour before the flier's departure from the American embassy.

Promptly at 3 P. M., Pierre Godin, president of the municipal council and Prefect Bouji of the Seine, rode to the American embassy, whence they conducted Lindbergh on the triumphant progress from the Arc De Triomphe down the Champs Elysees to the Place De La Concorde and thence to the Rue De Rivoli, and to the city hall, where he was officially received by the city of Paris.

Grouped around the Arc De Triomphe and the Champs Elysees were the picturesque Garde Republicaine mounted on horseback. They with the assistance of police, controlled the crowd.

Lindbergh was dressed in his new gray suit, which does not fit, and was bareheaded. He constantly saluted the crowds.

Men and women tried to climb trees for a better view as Lindbergh drove swiftly by. He does not like to be late. Along the Champs Elysees were 25,000 to 30,000 persons, 10,000 in the Place De La Concorde, and 20,000 to 30,000 more in the Rue De Rivoli.

As Lindbergh's motor car passed through the Place De Concorde, the crowd converged behind, scores trying to follow on foot but without avail.

Scores in the Tuileries ran into the street, further adding to the jam at the city hall. The car with Lindbergh in it passed so quickly that the crowd was still cheering two minutes after it had gone by.

Lindbergh and Ambassador Myron T. Herrick were in the rear seat of the official automobile which was preceded by motorcycle policemen. Behind were the cars of the prefect of police and other official automobiles.

Thousands of children in the crowd further along had toy airplanes and rubber balloons bearing the names of Lindbergh's plane and the name of the pilot.

Outside the city hall, which is ordinarily a street car terminus, the trams had to be re-routed because of the crowds. Street musicians, of whom there are many here, wrote songs especially for Lindbergh, and they sold fast. One song stressed that Lindbergh had been called a "flying fool" but that Paris was proud of him.

Every window of the Hotel Crillon and along the Champs Elysees held several peering heads.

Lindbergh entered the city hall through the great doors which last opened to meet the Sultan of Morocco. The airman passed through a lane formed by members of the Garde Republicaine. They were in full dress, plumes flowing from helmets and patent leather boots reaching to the white breeches at their knees. Their uniform coats were covered with gold braid. Lindbergh seemed to be more interested in the gay guards than in the ovations he had received.

Inside the city hall, Lindbergh was received with the honors usually reserved for crowned heads or older men, but which had been considered a fitting tribute for this comet from the west.

President D'Herbecourt of the Seine general council, and others welcomed Lindbergh to the city hall.

"Only a poet," said D'Herbecourt, "could have conceived the idea of your flight single-handed. But if you succeeded it was due to the efforts of scientists and industrialists of all countries and the daring acts of your aerial predecessors. So, in you, we salute all those who for 30 years risked their lives to advance the science of flight."

Paul Boujou, prefect of the Seine, said:

"I recall how 20 years ago the Wright brothers came to France braving skepticism and criticism but they found encouragement among good Frenchmen. We are proud that our two present ministers, Paul Painleve and Louis Barthou, were among the Wright brothers' first passengers."

Jean Chiappe, prefect of police, said:

"You have shown that there is no limit to the power of science and will over nature."

Pierre Godin, president of the municipal council, recalled that Louis Bleriot had sat in the same chair during a similar ceremony at the city hall after flying across the English Channel in 1909.

"Destiny favored you," said Godin to Lindbergh, "but you had grand courage combined with knowledge and experience. You have opened a tremendous new field of commercial aviation."

BEAR GREET'S PARTY

Young Men Hiking in St. Mathias Woods See Mr. Bruin;

Dog is Injured

That black bears really roam the woods of Crow Wing county is proved by Roy Avery, Frank Perlinger and Rudolph S. Keppers who say they saw a Mr. Bruin several times in the woods of St. Mathias township.

Early this week the three young men on a hiking trip were startled by a sudden parting of the bushes in their path and the appearance of a full sized black bear. The dog in the company of the party walked up curiously to the visitor, sniffed, and barked but hastily retreated when the bear slapped him, inflicting a deep wound. The bear, further undisturbed, perambulated lazily through the brush.

The general opinion upheld by outdoors men in the county is that the bear will not molest a person unless first threatened.

JENKINS FIRE LOSS PLACED AT $20,000

Lundale Building Which Housed Store, Telephone Office and Apartment Burned

OIL STATION LOWERED

One Hundred Citizens Form Bucket Brigade; Buildings Among Town's Prominent

One hundred residents of Jenkins forming a bucket brigade fighting desperately for hours to save two of their most imposing downtown buildings last evening witnessed the destruction by fire of the Lundale building which housed the Lundale Merchandise Store, the W. A. Curo residence, and the Bell Telephone Co. exchange office, and the Curo oil station at the rear of the building on Highway No. 19.

Total damage by fire is placed over $20,000. It was estimated by Dwight B. Curo, owner of the oil station who was in touch with The Brainerd Daily Dispatch office this morning. Owners of the buildings are taking stock of the loss. Part of the damage is covered by insurance, it is learned.

The fire is reported to have started in the basement of the building owned by O. L. Lundale. The fire spread rapidly upwards in the building which was of wooden structure. At 10:30 o'clock residents noticed smoke coming from the building and a general alarm was given, which was responded by over 100 citizens of the town who valiantly gave their assistance in an attempt to stop the path of destruction. In spite of efforts the building burned to the ground. Damage to the store and contents is placed over $12,000 while the damage to the Bell Telephone office is estimated over $2,000. All contents of the building and the apartments of W. A. Curo on the second floor were destroyed.

The fire jumped from the Lundale building to the Curo oil station which is owned and operated by Dwight B. Curo on Highway No. 19. The oil station was a complete loss with damage estimated over $2,000. Telephone connections at Jenkins were down this morning but an effort by wire experts from Brainerd was made to put the wires in repair by this afternoon.

The Lundale structure was a large white frame building, 50 feet long and 30 feet high. The oil station was one of the best in Jenkins.

PRESENT LAKE REGION FILM

"Ten Thousand Lakes in Minnesota" Witnessed by Brainerd Rotary Club

REPORTS ON FARGO MEET

R. L. Geist Tells of Valiant Work Done by Lions in Securing 1928 Convention

An unusual feature at Brainerd Rotary last Tuesday was the presentation of the film, "Ten Thousand Lakes in Minnesota," secured from the Northern Pacific railway general passenger department. A. B. Smith, of St. Paul, head of the passenger traffic department had the film routed from Pequot to Brainerd. Due also to the courtesy of T. B. Nelson, local agent of the railway and W. R. Hiller, of the Park theatre the film was shown at 1 o'clock shortly after the regular meeting.

Scenes include Birchmont, Breezy Point, Ten Mile Lake, Hackensack, Twin City lakes, etc.

Seven guests at the Rotary club included Tom Savage of Miami, Florida, and A. L. Price of Janesville, guests of William A. Spencer; R. L. Geist, past president of the Lions club, guests of John A. Hoffbauer and Rotarians Fred Boone, W. B. Warner of Manhattan, Kansas; Rotarians K. N. Gardner and A. J. Gould of Staples.

Secretary G. W. Chadbourne called attention to the death of Edward Hitchcock, Minneapolis Rotarian, and a frequent visitor of Brainerd Rotary who died in Florida and who will be buried at Northfield.

Walter F. Wieland referred to the ability as a singer shown by O. A. Peterson at St. Cloud and suggested he be placed on the waiting list as good material for a song leader.

R. R. Gould called attention to the coming meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Rev. N. P. Olmsted spoke on the rigid interpretation of Rotary classification as revealed at the luncheon at the St. Cloud district meeting. He brought up the point that a club is responsible for the filling of all classifications possible.

R. L. Geist chairman of the convention committee of local Lions at the Fargo meeting told of the valiant work done by the club in securing their first international gathering for Brainerd. Dr. W. A. Erickson gave a splendid three minute talk at the Fargo convention and was further reinforced by the oratory of Rev. Fred Errington of Moorhead, who holds a life membership in the local club.

Minneapolis then made its bid for the convention and after it had exhausted its talk, Brainerd came back with a sheet of telegrams from Mayor Little, Brainerd Rotary, Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, and Captain and Mrs. W. H. Fawcett.

Over 700 delegates as recorded by roll call were in attendance. The Brainerd convention next year will be much larger because many of the members will bring their families. The local Lions have sized up the undertaking and know that there is a large amount of work ahead of them to prepare for this gathering.

Fred Boone brought a welcome from the Manhattan Rotary club. Mr. Boone for many summers past has enjoyed an annual outing in the Bay Lake country.

The program committee submitted an outline of future programs and asked the cooperation of the members to realize their fulfillment.

Next May 31 there will be a Memorial Day program. Rev. Morris L. Eversz will deliver an address and a number of G. A. R. veterans have been invited to the luncheon as guests of club members.

On June 7 Henry Hoffmann will put on a special toll board demonstration. June 14 is Flag Day.

JENKINS FIRE LOSS PLACED AT $20,000

Lundale Building Which Housed Store, Telephone Office and Apartment Burned

OIL STATION LOWERED

One Hundred Citizens Form Bucket Brigade; Buildings Among Town's Prominent

One hundred residents of Jenkins forming a bucket brigade fighting desperately for hours to save two of their most imposing down town buildings last evening witnessed the destruction by fire of the Lundale building which housed the Lundale Merchandise Store, the W. A. Curo residence, and the Bell Telephone Co. exchange office, and the Curo oil station at the rear of the building, on Highway No. 19.

Total damage by fire is placed over $20,000 it was estimated by Dwight B. Curo, owner of the oil station who was in touch with the Brainerd Daily Dispatch office this morning. Owners of the buildings are taking stock of the loss. Part of the damage is covered by insurance, it is learned.

The fire is reported to have started in the basement of the building owned by O. L. Lundale. The fire spread rapidly upwards in the building which was of wooden structure. At 10:30 o'clock residents noticed smoke coming from the building and a general alarm was given, which was responded by over 100 citizens of the town who valiantly gave their assistance in an attempt to stop the path of destruction. In spite of efforts the building burned to the ground. Damage to the store and contents is placed over $12,000 while the damage to the Bell Telephone office is estimated over $2,000. All contents of the building and the apartments of W. A. Curo on the second floor were destroyed.

The fire jumped from the Lundale building to the Curo oil station which is owned and operated by Dwight B. Curo on Highway No. 19. The oil station was a complete loss with damage estimated over $2,000. Telephone connections at Jenkins were down this morning but an effort by wire experts from Brainerd was made to put the wires in repair by this afternoon.

The Lundale structure was a large white frame building, 50 feet long and 30 feet high. The oil station was one of the best in Jenkins.

PRESENT LAKE REGION FILM

"Ten Thousand Lakes in Minnesota"
Witnessed by Brainerd
Rotary Club

REPORTS ON FARGO MEET

R. L. Geist Tells of Valiant Work Done by Lions in Securing 1928 Convention

An unusual feature at Brainerd Rotary last Tuesday was the presentation of the film, "Ten Thousand Lakes in Minnesota," secured from the Northern Pacific railway general passenger department. A. B. Smith, of St. Paul, head of the passenger traffic department had the film routed from Pequot to Brainerd. Due also to the courtesy of T. B. Nelson, local agent of the railway and W. R. Hiller, of the Park theatre the film was shown at 1 o'clock shortly after the regular meeting.

Scenes include Birchmont, Breezy Point, Ten Mile Lake, Hackensack, Twin City lakes, etc.

Seven guests at the Rotary club included Tom Savage of Miami, Florida, and A. L. Price of Janesville, guests of William A. Spencer; R. L. Geist, past president of the Lions club, guests of John A. Hoffbauer and Rotarians Fred Boone, W. B. Warner of Manhattan, Kansas; Rotarians K. N. Gardner and A. J. Gould of Staples.

Secretary G. W. Chadbourne called attention to the death of Edward Hitchcock, Minneapolis Rotarian, and a frequent visitor of Brainerd Rotary who died in Florida and who will be buried at Northfield.

Walter F. Wieland referred to the ability as a singer shown by O. A. Peterson at St. Cloud and suggested he be placed on the waiting list as good material for a song leader.

R. R. Gould called attention to the coming meeting of the Chamber of Commerce.

Rev. N. P. Olmsted spoke on the rigid interpretation of Rotary classification as revealed at the luncheon at the St. Cloud district meeting. He brought up the point that a club is responsible for the filling of all classifications possible.

R. L. Geist chairman of the convention committee of local Lions at the Fargo meeting told of the valiant work done by the club in securing their first international gathering for Brainerd. Dr. W. A. Erickson gave a splendid three minute talk at the Fargo convention and was further reinforced by the oratory of Rev. Fred Errington of Moorhead.

Minneapolis then made its bid for the convention and after it had exhausted its talk, Brainerd came back with a sheaf of telegrams from Mayor Little, Brainerd Rotary, Brainerd Chamber of Commerce, and Captain and Mrs. W. H. Fawcett.

Over 700 delegates as recorded by roll call were in attendance. The Brainerd convention next year will be much larger because many of the members will bring their families. The local Lions have sized up the undertaking and know that there is a large amount of work ahead of them to prepare for this gathering.

Fred Boone brought a welcome from the Manhattan Rotary club. Mr. Boone for many summers past has enjoyed an annual outing in the Bay Lake country.

The program committee submitted an outline of future programs and asked the cooperation of the members to realize their fulfillment.

Next May 31 there will be a Memorial Day program. Rev. Morris L. Eversz will deliver an address and a number of G. A. R. veterans have been invited to the luncheon as guests of club members.

On June 7 Henry Hoffmann will put on a special toll board demonstration. June 14 is Flag Day.

WOMAN LIVES WITH BULLET IN HER BRAIN

FOR 56 DAYS MRS. BESSIE GILLESPIE AT POINT OF DEATH

STEEL JACKETED BULLET ACCIDENTALLY FIRED BY HER HUSBAND

By H. COLEMAN GRIMES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Columbus, O., May 26.—Mrs. Bessie Gillespie, who for 56 days has been at the point of death in a hospital here, continues to live today, with a steel-jacketed bullet piercing her brain.

Physicians express wonderment that the woman could survive so long under such circumstances.

Little hope was held for her recovery today, although, according to Dr. J. M. Dunn, attending physician, it is possible she may linger for months.

Mrs. Gillespie's right side is paralyzed and if by chance she should continue to live she will never regain control of the paralyzed organs, Dr. Dunn said.

Mrs. Gillespie was accidentally shot by her husband, Ellsworth Gillespie, when a revolver he was cleaning entered her head, slightly over the right eye. X-ray pictures showed that it coursed toward the center of the head, where it lodged.

WOMAN LIVES WITH BULLET IN HER BRAIN

FOR 56 DAYS MRS. BESSIE GILLESPIE AT POINT OF DEATH

STEEL JACKETED BULLET ACCIDENTALLY FIRED BY HER HUSBAND

By H. COLEMAN GRIMES
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Columbus, O., May 26.—Mrs. Bessie Gillespie, who for 56 days has been at the point of death in a hospital here, continues to live today, with a steel-jacketed bullet piercing her brain.

Physicians express wonderment that the woman could survive so long under such circumstances. Little hope was held for her recovery today, although, according to Dr. J. M. Dunn, attending physician, it is possible she may linger for months.

Mrs. Gillespie's right side is paralyzed and if by chance she should continue to live she will never regain control of the paralyzed organs, Dr. Dunn said.

Mrs. Gillespie was accidentally shot by her husband, Ellsworth Gillespie, when a revolver he was cleaning was discharged. The bullet entered her head, slightly over the right eye. X-ray pictures showed that it coursed toward the center of the head, where it lodged.
